Chapter Supported Combat Control Orientation Course A Success!

The first week of July, ten Civil Air Patrol cadets from around North Carolina and the U.S. descended on Pope AFB and the USAF Combat Control School to receive a week long orientation to the Combat Control career field.

Largely sponsored by the Chapter and the generous support of Lafayette Ford, these cadets awoke each morning at 5 am with grueling PT. Their days were filled with familiarization training in weapons, tactics, static-line jump operations, air traffic control, radio procedures, and even time in the vertical wind tunnel.

Students were proctored the Physical Ability and Stamina Test (PAST) prior to graduation.

The Air Force will recognize the results of this test for those CCOC Cadets who pursue a career in Special Tactics.

In 2010, the course will be held the first week of August. A Facebook page has been established and includes pictures and the course video.
